Department Library:

The word library embodies a rich tradition of learning, exploration, and intellectual growth. Across academic institutions worldwide, libraries serve as essential hubs of information and knowledge dissemination. The Electronics & Communication (Advanced Communication Technology) Department Library, though modest in its beginnings, is committed to supporting the academic and research needs of students, faculty, and staff.

Currently, our library hosts collection of books focused on core domain subjects. While our collection is small, it represents the first steps toward building a comprehensive repository of knowledge. We are actively working to expand our resources to include books from allied fields, technical magazines etc.

Departmental library of E&C (ACT) serves as a starting point for discovery and learning, and we encourage all members of the department to make use of its resources. Together, we aim to nurture this space into a thriving center of academic excellence and collaboration.

Objectives:

The Electronics & Communication (Advanced Communication Technology) department Library enables educational and research success by:
- Provide essential resources in core domain subjects to assist students and faculty in their academic pursuits and professional growth.
- Encouraging the department community to utilize library resources for study, research, and collaboration.
- Create a conducive environment for intellectual growth

Resources:

To cater to the demands of students and faculty and taking Educational needs into consideration Electronics & Communication (Advanced Communication Technology) Departmental library has added these book into their collection.
