Name of the Department: - First Year Engineering

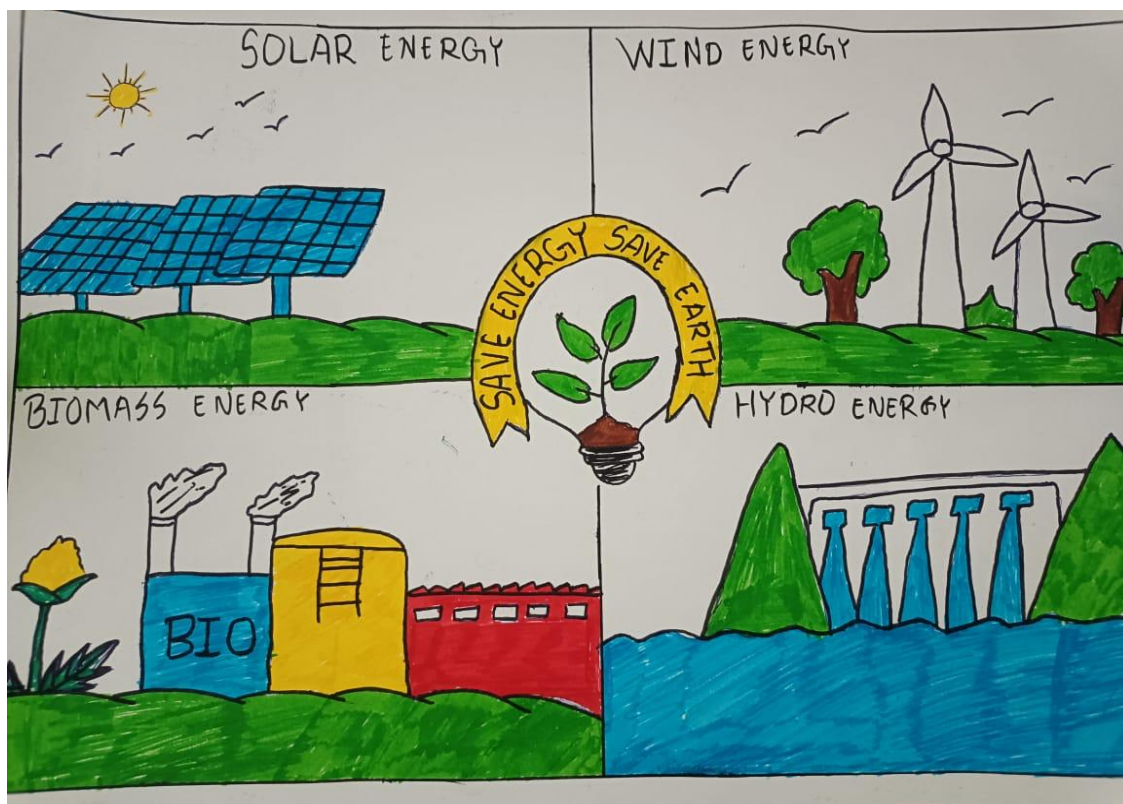

Name of the event:	First Year Engineering Student Induction Program
Date of the event:	13th September 2025
Participants:	All First Year Students (Group A & B)
No of students and Parents:	829
Summary of the event:	Rangoli Competition and Poster Making Competition As part of the First Year Engineering Student Induction Program, engaging cultural and creative activities such as rangoli and poster making competitions were conducted. The rangoli competition brought out students' artistic flair, where they designed colorful and intricate patterns that reflected cultural heritage, social messages, and innovative ideas. The poster making competition provided a platform for students to express their creativity and imagination on paper by portraying themes related to technology, environment, social awareness, and values. Both activities created an enthusiastic and vibrant atmosphere, giving students an opportunity to interact, collaborate, and showcase their hidden talents beyond academics. Cultural Program On the inaugural day of the First Year Engineering Induction Program, a systematic registration process was conducted for all newly admitted students and their parents. At the registration desk, participants were welcomed and guided by faculty and staff members. Students and parents recorded their attendance, received program schedules, and were provided with necessary information regarding the induction activities. This process ensured smooth coordination and helped in maintaining proper records of participation.
Outcome(s):	The activities provided students an opportunity to display their artistic talents, enhance their imagination, and work collaboratively. They also helped in building confidence, improving communication of ideas through visuals, and fostering a spirit of healthy competition and cultural engagement. The cultural program created a vibrant and welcoming environment for the newly admitted students and their parents. It provided a platform for students to showcase their artistic talents, promoted teamwork and confidence, and highlighted the importance of cultural values alongside academics. The program helped in building a sense of community, enthusiasm, and belongingness among the participants.
