Name of the event:	Elocution Competition on the occasion of ‘Samta Week’
Date of the event:	11 th April 2026
Participants:	95 students (Second Year & Third Year)
Summary:	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Samta Week 2026 (8th–14th April) was observed to promote equality, social justice, and the ideals of Dr. B. R. Ambedkar and Mahatma Jyotirao Phule.• An Elocution Competition was organized on 11.04.2026 as part of this initiative.• Students actively participated and delivered speeches in English, Marathi, and Hindi within the given time limit.• The activity also encouraged spontaneous participation, where some students, inspired by their peers, confidently came forward to speak, fostering a supportive and engaging environment.
Outcome:	The Elocution Competition helped in creating awareness among students about the values of equality, justice, and social reform. It encouraged unity and a sense of brotherhood among participants while enhancing their confidence, communication, and public speaking skills. Students developed a greater appreciation for the contributions of Dr. B. R. Ambedkar and Mahatma Jyotirao Phule and were motivated to think critically about social issues such as discrimination and inequality. Notably, some students, inspired by observing their peers, came forward to speak spontaneously, reflecting increased confidence and a supportive learning environment. This aligns with the objective of the activity to encourage participation through observation and peer learning. Overall, the activity reinforced the importance of equal opportunities and inspired students to contribute towards building a more inclusive and progressive society.
